

Duty of Candour Report 2024-2025

RIDGEWAY RISE
CARE HOME

All health and social care services in the UK have Duty of Candour responsibilities. This is a legal requirement which means that when things go wrong and mistakes happen, the people affected understand what has happened, receive an apology and organisations learn how to improve for the future.

An important part of this duty is to provide an annual report about the duty of candour in our service. This short report describes how Ridgeway Rise Care Home has operated the duty of candour during the period from 1st April 2024 to the 31st of March 2025. We hope you find this report useful.

Ridgeway Rise Care Home is a beautiful residence with stunning views over the North Swindon Ridgeway. Designed to accommodate up to 73 residents, we offer expert residential, nursing, and dementia care delivered by a team of highly trained and compassionate professionals. Our dedicated staff are committed to creating a supportive, homely environment where older people can thrive. We focus not only on exceptional care but also on enriching the lives of our residents—helping them stay engaged, active, and fulfilled each day.

Within the last 12 months, there have been 2 incidents at the home, to which the duty of candour applied. These are where types of incidents have happened which are unintended or unexpected, and do not relate directly to the natural course of someone's illness or underlying condition.

CARE HOME

When we realised the events above had happened, we followed the correct procedure. This means we informed the people affected, apologised to them in person and in writing, and offered to meet with them and their family. We reviewed what happened and what if anything, went wrong to try and learn for the future.

If something has happened that triggers the duty of candour, our staff report this to the General Manager who has responsibility for ensuring that the Duty of Candour procedure is followed. The General Manager records the incident or accident and reports it as necessary to the Care Quality Commission, the local contracting authority, the Regional Director, and the Quality Director, for the company. When an incident or accident has happened, the General Manager and staff set up a learning review. This allows everyone involved to review what happened and identify changes for the future.

All new staff learn about the duty of candour at their induction. We know that serious mistakes can be distressing for staff as well as people who use care and their families.

Following the incident in which the resident experienced harm, we worked closely with the individual and their family to review and update their care and support plans. As part of our response, we implemented additional measures, including enhanced staff training and the introduction of falls prevention technology. Where applicable, similar actions were taken for other residents, always in consultation with them and their families.

Duty of candour informs our learning and planning for improvements as a service, and as a company. It has helped us to remember that people who use our services have the right to know when things could be better, as well as when they go well.

As required, we have made this report available to the regulator but in the spirit of openness, we have published it to share with our residents and their relatives too.
